April can test man's patience. The equinox has passed; the calraw winds continue. Snow flurries what they have meant to this land whiten the landscape and sudden in the west. Early ploneer homes rains drum on farm shop windows, used kettles that hung from cranes A man walks his acres on a clear day and senses the miracle of resurrection even as a cold breeze theek.

Man needs April to test his patience. He sees the first strips of green grass along the brooks, although fields and postures are drab and bleached. He sees swella most shower at the hume of Wight, Mrs Ida Wight, Miss and knows the Master Plan is on ing bude on lilers and forevibles.

The Song of Solomon puts it in ing of birds is come and the voice of the turtle is heard in the land."

April is a compound of winter's unhurried linguish and springs rejuriout advances. There are sunsy, warm days when the temperature climbs: there are days when the red mark mays around the freezing point, that each day the day bloobleds sing their arts, and red-winerd blackblrds whistle

Westlands are open and graycurple chadges our from the boles In the ravines, deep snow all lies in granular danks, while contriduce drammalls cano through the woods

The crowth alternately tantalizes ready Perfore haunting cries come through the darkness and time of repression. Man's falth pigh unto a perfect supperthay know weak at times April bolaters folds and that is why man excels April.

Today's coup is one of my favorito dishes for supper on a cold evening. It is hearty and filling and if you try it, I'll be happy to hear your reactions. Use two No. 503 cans of cream style corn, one quart whole milk, one half cup finely-chopped carrot, bue third cup butter or margarine, one medium onion chopped fine, one and a fourth teaspoons salt, one eighth teaspoon pepper, one fourth teaspoon paralcy flakes and one third sup finir, ingredients except corn. Reep mixture over heat until thickened. Warm the corn and add to the milk mixture. Heat to piping hot before errying. My plan is to set and discourages, but one knows it unide and let it cool and then that the magic of a new season is rehest. But if you don't have time for this after coming home from that PTA mosting, it is OK to the music of day begins of dawn, serve it immediately if piping hot, The pulse of Year is nutricules A towl of this a quarter of a mince and man's heart responds to the ple and a cup of virtums coffee is CINVERAL years ago one of my brothers was seemingly very III. He went from doctor to doctor, but none could find anything radically wrong. I suppose in sheer desperation he turned to the Lord of Life, and became converted.

He had been reared by our parents to go to church and Sunday School, but I do not think he ever had a deep spiritual experience before. He became a changed person with great faith.

Part of one of his letters one year was the answer to my prayers for him since he was just a lad. He wrote: "We have our de- life, I pray that I may be a mirvotional guide at our church. So ror to reflect His love and glory. I have a copy at home. I helped with the communion service for the first time last Sunday. I like It very much, and I am happier than ever before in my life.

"If we could only make others see what a difference Christ can make in their lives! It seems so simple, yet so difficult to get across to the other fellow. I guess a person must have to go through some experience of his own before he really understands."

PRAYER: O Lord, we come to Thee because we are creatures. of recurring need, and Christ has for us the words of eternal life. Grant us the water of life issuing from the deep spring of Thy bountiful supply. In our Rodeemer's name. Amen. Thought For The Day
